

BINGO!

Are you up for a challenge? Dare your classmates to not use disposable plastics all week! And you can keep doing challenges together even after the week is over. It will get easier as you get used to not using plastic, we promise!

MONDAY

No more plastic baggies at lunch!

Be like the sea lion with his tuna lunch. Forget the plastic sandwich baggies. Hunt around your house, I'm sure you can find an old lunch box somewhere. Couldn't find anything? Don't panic. You can buy reusable lunch boxes or bags in the store.

TUESDAY

Farewell single-use water bottles!

Are you the kind of person who might forget your head if it wasn't screwed on? Well, from now on you aren't going anywhere without your reusable water bottle. Fill it up with tap water, and you're ready to go!

WEDNESDAY

Bye bye disposable plastic!

For the last two days you've been going strong without plastic baggies and water bottles. Today we're kicking it up a notch: no more plastic plates, cups or cutlery. Replace them with items you can wash (or chuck in the washing machine, because doing the dishes is no fun!) and use again.

THURSDAY

Pick up someone else's trash!

You can find litter everywhere. Take a walk around the school yard and neighborhood and pick up any litter you see lying around.

FRIDAY

No plastic packaging for you!

Ok, we admit it... this one is tough. But try not to use plastic packaging, or buy anything with plastic wrapping. A great excuse to eat a piece of fruit (or bake some cookies).

SATURDAY

See ya plastic bags!

Yay, it's finally the weekend. Are you heading to the store for some shopping today? Don't forget to bring along your own (cotton, reusable or basket) shopping bags with you! Now you don't have to ask for or buy a plastic bag at the cash register.

SUNDAY

Say "no thanks" to straws!

In the USA, we use 500 million plastic straws every day. Next time you order something to drink at the mall or in a diner, ask the waiter to leave out the straw, or bring your own reusable straw along! And at home? Well, you don't really need a straw, right?

- It's so nice here lately. ° ° people finally stop wasting plastic!

- nice one! ° °
